

This map illustrates the extensive railway network of the Mazovian Voivodeship in Poland. It shows a dense web of lines connecting major urban centers and smaller towns. Key features include:

- Major Stations: Warszawa (Warsaw) is the central hub, with other significant stations like Łódź, Białystok, and Radom.
- Geographical Features: The Vistula River (Wisła) is shown flowing through the region, with several bridges crossing it.
- Infrastructure: Airports are marked with airplane icons, and various bridges are indicated by specific symbols.
- Regional Connections: The network extends to neighboring voivodeships, with lines leading to Lublin, Kielce, and Poznań.

The map uses a color-coded system to distinguish between different types of railway lines and services, providing a comprehensive overview of the region's transportation infrastructure.
